Dear Heath,

I would like to once again congratulate you on becoming one of the first certified contractors in the country. We have enclosed a framed plaque reflecting your certification status. We hope that you display the plaque proudly in a prominent place in your office. There has been an uptick in both interest and actual registrations from companies to get certified in the last few months, so we expect that there will be a surge in contractors taking the test later this year and into next year. We feel that companies are looking to set themselves apart from their competition by becoming a certified contractor.

One other bright spot on the horizon for the certification program is that the state of Texas is currently reviewing a new law which will require sub-contractors in their state to be certified in their field. We are confident that if adopted, that our program will be recognized by the state as the program for mason contractors. Typically, when one state adopts this type of legislation, it will spread to others pretty quickly.

We are confident that your hard work and foresight to become one of the first certified contractors in the country will pay you dividends in the future. Please feel free to contact myself or Sharyl Toynton in our office if you have any questions or concerns regarding your certification. Thank you again for your support of our certification program.

Sincerely,

Jeff Buczkiewicz
